Dear Minister,

I am doctor of electronics engineering and I also have a university diploma in business economics. I speak and write five languages. I have found employment in a known multinational group of companies near Zurich as a Manager of the Microelectronics Research and Development department from the 1st of april 2008.

Am writing you this letter because I would like to ask the humanitarian support and protection of the Swiss authorities for my family and myself. This is my story:

I was born in Turin (Italy) on 11th of january 1961, from italian parents.

In 1997 I was naturalised German – a naturalization that I am trying to have undone after what I have discovered.

I am married to Yasmine Casalegno, born in Sidi Kacem (Morocco) on 1st of january 1978, moroccan citizen. Together we have two children: Veronika-Haschar Casalegno, born in Agadir on 30th may 2004 and Franz-Suhiir Casalegno, born in Agadir on 17th august 2007. Both have the german citizenship and the right to acquire the moroccan citizenship according to art. 6 of the law on citizenship of the Kingdom of Morocco. They have lived in Germany no more than some weeks.

In february 2008 the german Jugendamt menaced us and forced us to place our daughter in one of their institutions by stamping us voluntarily as “criminal parents”, although we are definitely not. We have managed to get back our daughter thanks to the information given us by Mr. Karrer of the CEED - information that we have shrewdly used.

As we gathered information, we quickly understood that the goal of this action was to fix our family on german territory in order to compensate the negative development of the german demography. After the thirty days for which we had signed for, the Jugendamt did not give us our daughter back, although it was convened. It has given her long term memory erasing drugs in order to let her forget her past, i.e. her roots, without our consent, without asking us.

Following the advice of many people, among which the CEED in Paris and specialized lawyers, we had to capitulate to the evidence: a family life without the Jugendamt is not possible for foreigners in Germany. Their message was: sooner or later, the Jugendamt steals foreigners their children, they always find a pretext to do so. The only way out was to quit Germany as quickly as possible. My wife and my children have found refuge in Morocco.

Even if we were never heard in any court by any judge, and we are in possession of all our rights, we know from many other similar cases that the Jugendamt unilaterally and secretly obtains all custody rights in order to put one or both parents in the Sirene/Interpol wanted list and demand foreign authorities the extradition of their children to Germany, this without a valid court decision. In this way, they cheat foreign authorities by letting them believe that they would help the German State for a justified purpose.

The German administration uses surprise in order to create accomplished facts: once the children are on German territory, they will never quit it again. The authorities will make sure that all contacts to their foreign biological parents be cut. This is the naked truth.

I would like to avoid being afflicted by such a misfortune.

This is why I ask you if it were possible to give your police services instructions to demand from the German authorities the proof of a contradictory and definitive court decision (which does not exist and does not have any reason to exist) before answering to such an arrest and extradition order via Interpol or Sirene.

Since I work for a multinational group of enterprises and I am obliged to fly frequently, may I ask you to instruct your police services not to proceed to arrest me in your airports on the basis of such an international order based on German family law, an order that would be completely unjustified?

At the same time, may I ask your office for the control of foreign citizens in Switzerland not to postpone the emission of my residence permit for the same reason?

Be assured that I am ready to send you a complete documentation of our case if your administration asks me, so that you can ascertain the honesty and truth of our statements.

For your information, I would like to draw your attention on a short video taken at the European Parliament in November last year. It is about the Jugendamt. I can only confirm that all statements pronounced by one of your citizens, Mrs. Annelise Oeschger, are the plain truth

I thank you very much for your attention and ask you to accept my sincerest regards
